1. Overview

1.1 Philosophy

Department of Nursing hold “Empathy, Respect, Responsibility, Caring” as concepts central to our philosophy. It is our goal to cultivate nursing leaders who are self-motivated independent, decisive, creative, and critical thinkers with professional nursing knowledge, skills, and enthusiasm. Graduates are expected to have humanities and social science knowledge, critical thinking, ethics, nursing informatics, clinical practice, nursing research, teaching and learning, leadership and management, and lifelong learning, and become nursing professionals with social humanities caring, international perspective and mission.

1.2 Objectives

The International Doctoral Program in Nursing (IDPN) prepares students to develop the international nursing profession, focusing on knowledge development, as well as research on clinical health care problems. Nursing scholars are cultivated to independently seek scientific exploration and professional commitment.

Graduates meet the following competencies:

- Philosophical thinking in knowledge development
- Research methodology to generate new knowledge
- Ethical reasoning in health practice
- Communication for multidisciplinary collaboration
- Leadership in professional development
- Lifelong learning in scientific inquiry

2. General Information about IDPN

National Cheng Kung University (NCKU) values an academic environment that prepares students to fulfill productive roles in society. The University Rules and Regulation (<https://reg-acad.ncku.edu.tw/p/412-1041-7403.php?Lang=en>) provides details for Graduate Degrees. The IDPN Curriculum can be found on the Department of Nursing website: <https://nursing.ncku.edu.tw/p/412-1106-21335.php?Lang=en>

2.1 Program Progression

Full-time doctoral students are expected to complete the doctoral degree within 3-7 years (See Doctoral Study Progression). Each doctoral student completes a minimum of 36 academic credits: 18 credits of required courses, 6 credits of elective courses and 12 credits of the dissertation which must be written in English. After successfully accomplishing the thirty-six (36) required academic credits students are eligible to graduate.

2.2 Academic Requirements

Academic grade points of courses and dissertation examination are calculated on a one-hundred (100) point scale. Seventy percent (70%) is considered a passing point. Grades below seventy percent (70%), their academic grade points will not be granted. Students are not permitted to take the Make-up Exam of the course(s) or subject(s) receiving unsatisfactory/failing grade points of the academic semester. Students shall retake the required course in the next semester or next year prior to the expiration of their study periods.

2.2.1 Semester Grade Point Average is computed as followed:

- A. Grade point is computed by multiplying the course credit(s) earned with the course grade earned.
- B. Semester Grade Point Average is computed by dividing the sum of all grade points by the total of credits earned in the semester.

2.2.2 Calculation of graduating grade points:

The average of the course grade point average and degree examination comprises the graduation grade.

2.2.3 Graduate Students can be withdrawn from the university for:

- A. Inability to pass the degree examinations during the term of study.
- B. Inability to complete the required qualification examination within the period stipulated by the department, or unable to pass the qualifying examinations within the number of tries allowed by the department.
- C. Failing the degree examination for the second time.
- D. Plagiarized of any published or electronic journal papers, creative work, performances, written reports, technical reports and other course-related work produced by students during their studies.
- E. Failure register before the deadline or after the period of suspension.
- F. Unsatisfactory conduct.
- G. Falsifying qualifications for admission.
- H. Violation of the University Student Merits and Penalty Rules.
- I. Violation of rules and regulations of their affiliated departments and institutes, and whose expulsion is affirmed by the President of the University.

※Notification:

1. Pre-requisites: Bio- and Medical Ethics is the pre-requisites course for Ethical Considerations and Practice in Health Care, please take Bio- and Medical Ethics in International Advanced Program in Nursing(IAPN) for the pre-requisites course for Ethical Considerations and Practice in Health Care. The course credit, however, will not be included in the graduation credit requirement of this department. An exemption is possible if students have already taken the Bio- and Medical Ethics at a graduate level. Students are required to submit an application (Appendix 0) for Course Exemption before the first academic year. Those who hasn't taken Bio- and Medical Ethics course could choose to have challenge test, which will be hold before the first year enrollment (usually in June or July). Those who don't submit application form for Bio-and Medicinal Ethics Exemption or application form for challenge test should take the Bio- and Medical Ethics course, the course credit of which, will not be included in the graduation credit requirement of this department.

In accordance with the resolution on the 9th meeting of 109 academic year:

- (1) Before applying for proposal defense/ PhD Candidacy Exam, Master and PhD Students shall complete the Academic Ethics and Research Integrity Courses offered by Center for Taiwan Academic Research Ethics Education (AREE).
 - (2) Those who apply for proposal defense /PhD Candidacy Exam shall submit this checklist with advisor's signature and relevant proof documents together with other proposal defense/ PhD Candidacy Exam application form. (Appendix 15)
 - (3) This regulation is effectively imposed to all new students enrolled in the Fall semester of 2022.
 - (4) These regulations were translated from Chinese. Should there be any discrepancies between the two versions, the Chinese version shall always take precedence.
2. Chinese Classes for International Degree Students (CIDS) are provided free for two semesters (only). Students are strongly encouraged to take one year Chinese classes during their study in any academic year. Further information please refer to Office of International Affairs, NCKU.
 3. If a student is planning to take a leave of absence, they are required to ask permission from the faculty in charge of the class, otherwise it will be absent without leave.
 4. Elective courses shall be offered according to Department yearly curriculum arrangement.
 5. Students should plan course selection with advisor before selecting in each semester.
 6. Students need to choose at least one elective course offered by Department of Nursing and may choose elective courses offered from other Department with approvals from advisors.

Fall September starts

Advisor selection

The student chooses an advisor before the second semester of their first academic year. Submit the research Advisor Agreement (Appendix 1-1) after a faculty member has accepted the role of research advisor. Included in the application a 100 word abstract about their intended research topics or research direction. At any time the student may seek to change advisors (see Appendix 1-1).

Submission of Dissertation
Committee and proposed research
plan

The student establishes a Dissertation Committee (besides the advisor, the advisor will recommend 2 appropriate members) and submits a proposed research plan by October 31 of their 3rd academic year. Those who fail to make the tentative doctoral plan on time, the student and his/her advisor should explain in a written form to Department office. When necessary, they are required to attend a departmental meeting to explain.

Dissertation
progress report

Graduate students report their progress of research dissertation on Research Day which is planned and held by the Faculty Development Committee every year. Please refer to Regulations for Dissertation Progress Report of Graduate Students (P.18) for further information.

Regulations for Dissertation Advisors of Graduate Students

Amended and approved at the 1st meeting of the Department Affairs Council on 7 September 2015

Amended at the 8th meeting of the Department Affairs Council on 6 May 2020

Amended and approved at the 2nd meeting of the Faculty Development Committee on 13 May 2020

Amended and approved at the 9th meeting of the Department Affairs Council on 1 June 2020

- Article 1 Regulations for Dissertation Advisors of Graduate Student (Hereinafter referred to as “Regulations”) are established to maintain the teaching quality and avoid overloading in accordance with article 7 of “NCKU Graduate Student Policies and Rules” and article 9 of “Teaching Hour Principles and Disbursement Methods and Guidelines on Overtime Pay and Thesis Tutoring”.
- Article 2 Dissertation Advisors shall meet the following requirements:
1. A full-time faculty, jointly faculty, adjunct faculty or clinical faculty of Department of Nursing.
 2. The advisor of master students must have a doctoral degree and continue to conduct research projects.
 3. The advisor of doctoral students must hold a position as an Associate Professor or above with experience as a principal investigator who has been grant funded for research or has published in SCI/SSCI/EI-indexed journals in the past three years.
- Article 3 Co-advisors shall meet the following requirements:
1. The co-advisor of master students must have a doctoral degree.
 2. The co-advisor of doctoral students must hold a position as an Associate Professor or above.
- Article 4 The maximum number of advisees from freshmen for each advisor per academic year is 4, and the total number of advisees for each advisor shall not exceed 12 (including local and international master, doctoral students, suspended students and co-advised students from other department). If the number of advisees does not meet this principle, it must be submitted to the Faculty Development Committee for deliberation.
- Article 5 Advisor who is newly hired needs to co-advise students with other advisor who has experience in our department for their first student advisement. However, those who has had experience of independent student advisement in other school are not subject to the limits.
- Article 6 Advisor who is retired or no longer employed by NCKU can continue to be responsible for student advisement as the adjunct faculty or co-advise student with other advisor.

Article 7 Advisor who is in the period of leave without pay (such as temporary transfer, parental leave or study overseas) or leave with pay (such as study overseas) is responsible for student advisement with the original students as the highest priority, and the total number of advisees is limited to 8. Advisors can have new advisees if the number of advisees less than 8, but only 1 new advisee per year.

Article 8 The establishment of the advisement relationship between advisors and graduate students of our department is based on the negotiation of the expertise and personal interests between advisors and graduate students. Both parties must fulfill the obligations of the advisement relationship, and also have the right to terminate the advisement relationship.

Article 9 These Regulations shall be approved by the meeting of the Department Affairs Council.

Establishment of Dissertation Committee

Approved at the 5th Preparatory Meeting for the International Doctoral Program on 6 March 2017

Approved at the 7th Departmental Affairs Meeting on 6 March 2017

Amended and approved at the 8th Departmental Affairs Meeting on 4 May 2020

Dissertation
Committee Proposed

After discussing with the Advisor, the student establishes a Dissertation Committee by October 31st of their third academic year. Students or advisors who cannot make the deadline for proposed research plan (Appendix 2) should explain in writing and appear before the Departmental meeting.

Discussion by IDPN
Committee

After the Dissertation Committee has been approved by the Departmental meeting, the academic contracts are dispatched from the Department. If for any reason, one or both of the recommended members are unable to fulfill their commitment, students with their advisor must propose alternative members to be approved at the next Departmental meeting.

Change of committee member

Any change in the composition of the Dissertation Committee must have the agreement of both the student and advisor. The advisor is responsible to contact the member being replaced to ensure the member is aware of the request and agrees to withdraw). The student then completes the “Application for a Change in Dissertation Committee” composition (Appendix 3).

New academic contracts are drawn up and made available for all the Dissertation Committee members.

Scholarship Application Guidelines

Approved at the 7th Preparatory Meeting for the International Doctoral Program on 8 May 2017

- I. Guidelines for scholarships or fellowships for graduate study follow those of the University.
- II. The number of recipients for scholarships or fellowships are restricted by funding given the Department by the University and determined by the Curriculum Committee of the Department of Nursing.
- III. Scholarship application:
 - i. Eligibility:
 - 1. First, second, and third year students enrolled in the IDPN have priority, including returning students who have previously suspended their studies.
 - 2. The following students are ineligible for a scholarship or fellowship.
 - (1) Holds a part-time job outside the school or
 - (2) Holds a part-time job within the school, or will also receive financial support from another scholarship which is of higher monetary value than this scholarship.
 - 3. Students are allowed to participate in research work/projects within their major field of study and still be eligible for the scholarship or fellowship, providing the allowance a student receives for this research work is less than the monetary value of the specific scholarship. To remain eligible students are permitted to participate in only one research project at a time.
- IV. Obligations of the Recipients

Scholarship or fellowship recipients participate in administrative tasks or research for an average of ten hours per week. These include:

 - i. Document processing, taking meeting minutes, web page maintenance, document organizing, editing, program promotion, and other specific work assigned by the Director.
 - ii. PhD major lecture task (TA – Teaching Assistant): based on the teaching need.
 - iii. The overall performance of recipients is determined by the Director or faculty in charge of the course, and their advisors as each case dictates. If a students' performance is judged to be unacceptable, the student is ineligible for their scholarship or fellowship and funding is immediately suspended.
- V. Recipients must inform the Curriculum Committee if any of the circumstances below arise:

- i. Begin working in a part-time job during the semester
